1. Savings and Money Market Disclosures.

See the Current Deposit Rates for disclosures on rates, compounding and crediting, and other balance information. Savings accounts are also subject to the fees listed in the Other Fees section. The average collected balance is calculated by adding the principal in the account for each day of the month and dividing that figure by the number of days in the period. Unlike checking accounts, checks written on money market accounts are not returned with your statement.

2. U.S. Bank has established alliances to expand ATM convenience. These partner ATMs display the U.S. Bank logo and are included in the definition of a U.S. Bank ATM.

1. Overdraft Paid Fees are not assessed on Premium Business Checking and Premium Business Money Market.

2. Fees are limited to a daily maximum of 3 Overdraft Paid Fees per day.

3. If you have linked eligible accounts, and the negative Available Balance in your checking account is $5.01 or more, the advance amount will transfer in multiples of $100.00. If however, the negative Available Balance is $5.00 or less, the amount advanced will be $5.00 and the Overdraft Protection Transfer Fee will be waived. Refer to Your Deposit Account Agreement, section titled "Overdraft Protection Plans," for additional information.

4. Refer to Your Deposit Account Agreement, section titled "Overdraft Protection Plans," under "Business Banking Overdraft Protection" for additional information.

5. The Deposit Coverage fee covers the cost of managing our clients' deposits, including factors such as operating and regulatory costs. Assessed at $0.129 per $1,000 average of ledger balances each statement cycle.

6. You can request a copy of your periodic statement at any time. Account analysis is the method of fee processing and reporting for business checking accounts. Analyzed accounts use account analysis to detail fees. Fees are charged to the account once per month.

7. The Snap Shot Statement can be requested at any time. This statement mirrors activity on the account since the last statement cycle. For example: A normal business statement cycle ends the last day of the month. If the last statement cycle date is May 31st, and you request a Snap Shot Statement on June 10th, your requested Snap Shot Statement will show activity beginning May 31st through June 10th.

8. You can request an additional copy of the "Service Analysis Statement" details. This section can be found in your periodic statement under "Analysis Service Charge Detail". In this section, you can find information such as (but not limited to) wire fees, statement fees and/or transaction fees.

9. You can request an extra copy of your periodic statement at anytime. Your account is considered non-analyzed when fees are charged to the account on a daily basis, as applicable.

NOTE: The above list includes only the most common fees associated with business accounts and does not include all possible service charges. Unless specifically stated, Premium accounts may have fees that vary from those listed. Please contact your Business Banker for complete pricing information about Treasury Management, International Banking, Premium accounts, or other U.S. Bank products and services not listed here. Fees are subject to change without notice.
